Word of Life

“Having received the gift of the Gospel of Life, we are the people of life and a people for life. It is our duty to proclaim the Gospel of Life to the world. To proclaim Jesus is to proclaim life itself. Gratitude and joy at the incomparable dignity of the human person impel us to bring the Gospel of life to the hearts of all people and make it penetrate every part of society.”

The Three Advents of Christ

Advent was the last liturgical season to develop in the Church’s history, as a penitential season leading up to the full joy of Christmas, just as Lent is meant to prepare us for Easter. The name Advent simply means ‘coming,’ or ‘arrival’ and the season focuses on three moments when Christ comes to meet us.

What’s usually referred to as the First Advent of Christ was at the First Christmas, when He first became visible as a Baby in Bethlehem, born in weakness and poverty. What we call the Second Coming of Christ refers to His return in power and glory at the end of the world, for the Judgment of the Nations. We might also include in our consideration of His Second Coming the particular judgment each of us will face at the end of our lives. The third moment that Christ comes to us is in the present, today, through grace and the Sacraments. God’s work in our world and history is not just a thing of the past (as at that First Christmas) or of the future (at the end of the world or of our lives), but God wants to transform us today, and in every present moment through the Advent of His Messiah into our lives.

Because Advent focuses on the fulfillment of God’s promises, His promises to the people of Israel long ago, Christ’s promise to return at the end of time, and His promise to give us new life here and now, the virtue that we should especially foster during this season is hope. Christian hope desires and obtains what God promises to give. There are many things that we hope for, even on a natural level, and God is generous in pouring out His blessings upon us, even if we do have to suffer or wait from time to time. Even more than the blessings of health, food, shelter, education, or any other good thing, God especially wants to give us Himself, in the Eucharist, in the communion of prayer, and ultimately in the eternal life of heaven.

How do we exercise our desire for God and His gifts during this Advent season to grow in the virtue of hope? We all know the Lenten practices of prayer, fasting, and almsgiving, and most Catholics try to give something up or do something extra throughout Lent, but do we ever commit ourselves to anything special throughout the season of Advent? During Advent, the focus is not so much on fasting or almsgiving, but we are called to “Stay awake!” “Be sober and alert.” To keep watch and pray. Vigils in the darkness of early morning or of the night hours are especially appropriate “as we await the blessed hope and the coming of our Savior, Jesus Christ.”
